

know that $X \rightsquigarrow X$

The screenshot shows a window titled "parc bridge". At the top, there is a menu bar with "Display Analyses:" followed by two radio buttons, "single" (which is selected) and "packed", and three buttons: "Clear", "Exit", and "Help". Below the menu bar, the window is divided into two main sections. The first section is labeled "Passage" and contains a text box with the text "John knew that the food was ready." Below the text box is a horizontal scrollbar. Under the scrollbar are three buttons: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR". The second section is labeled "Question" and contains a text box with the text "The food was ready." Below the text box is a horizontal scrollbar. Under the scrollbar are three buttons: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR". At the bottom of the window, there is a section labeled "Answer" with a text box containing the text "YES".

Parc's Bridge System

Daniel Bobrow, Cleo Condoravdi, Dick Crouch, Martin Forst, Ron Kaplan, Lauri Karttunen, Tracy King, John Mawell, Rowan Nairn, Valeria de Paiva, Karl Pichotta, Annie Zaenen

(believe X, $X \rightsquigarrow Y$) \rightsquigarrow believe Y

parc bridge

Display Analyses: ☒ single ☐ packed Clear Exit Help

Passage Sandy believed that Kim hopped.

Syntax AKR0 AKR

Question Sandy believed that Kim moved.

Syntax AKR0 AKR

Answer YES: [move=hop]

pretend that $X \rightsquigarrow$ not X

The screenshot shows a window titled "parc bridge". At the top, there is a "Display Analyses:" section with two radio buttons: "single" (selected) and "packed". To the right of these are three buttons: "Clear", "Exit", and "Help".

Below this, there are two main sections:

- Passage: A text box containing the sentence "John pretended that Mary was sick." Below the text box is a horizontal scrollbar. Underneath the scrollbar are three buttons: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR".
- Question: A text box containing the sentence "Mary was sick." Below the text box is a horizontal scrollbar. Underneath the scrollbar are three buttons: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR".

At the bottom of the window, there is an "Answer" section with a text box containing the word "NO".

pretend to X \rightsquigarrow not X

The screenshot shows a window titled "parc bridge". At the top, there is a menu bar with "Display Analyses:" followed by two radio buttons, "single" (which is selected) and "packed", and three buttons: "Clear", "Exit", and "Help". Below the menu bar, there are two main sections: "Passage" and "Question". The "Passage" section contains a text box with the text "John pretended to work." and a horizontal scrollbar. Below the text box are three buttons: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR". The "Question" section contains a text box with the text "John worked." and a horizontal scrollbar. Below the text box are three buttons: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR". At the bottom of the window, there is a section labeled "Answer" with a text box containing the text "NO".

parc bridge

Display Analyses: ☒ single ☐ packed Clear Exit Help

Passage John pretended to work.

Syntax AKR0 AKR

Question John worked.

Syntax AKR0 AKR

Answer NO

refuse to X \rightsquigarrow not X

The screenshot shows a window titled "parc bridge" with standard Mac OS window controls (red, yellow, green buttons). Below the title bar, there is a "Display Analyses:" section with two radio buttons: "single" (selected) and "packed". To the right of these are three buttons: "Clear", "Exit", and "Help".

The main area is divided into two sections:

- Passage: A text box containing "John refused to dance." Below the text box is a horizontal scrollbar. Underneath the scrollbar are three buttons: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR".
- Question: A text box containing "Did John tango with Mary?". Below the text box is a horizontal scrollbar. Underneath the scrollbar are three buttons: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR".

At the bottom of the window, there is an "Answer" section with a text box containing "NO".

not hesitate to $X \rightsquigarrow X$

The screenshot shows a window titled "parc bridge" with standard Mac OS window controls (red, yellow, green buttons). Below the title bar, there is a "Display Analyses:" section with two radio buttons: "single" (selected) and "packed". To the right of these are three buttons: "Clear", "Exit", and "Help".

The main area is divided into two sections:

- Passage: A text box containing the sentence "She almost hesitated to offer her advice." Below the text box is a horizontal scrollbar. Underneath the scrollbar are three buttons: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR".
- Question: A text box containing the question "Did she offer advice?". Below the text box is a horizontal scrollbar. Underneath the scrollbar are three buttons: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR".

At the bottom of the window, there is an "Answer" section with a text box containing the word "YES".

have N_c to $X \rightsquigarrow X$

parc bridge

Display Analyses: ☒ single ☐ packed Clear Exit Help

Passage Ed had the chutzpah to steal the money.

Syntax AKR0 AKR

Question Ed stole the money.

Syntax AKR0 AKR

Answer YES

not have N_c to $X \rightsquigarrow$ not X

The screenshot shows a window titled "parc bridge" with standard Mac OS window controls (red, yellow, green buttons). Below the title bar, there is a "Display Analyses:" section with two radio buttons: "single" (selected) and "packed". To the right of these are three buttons: "Clear", "Exit", and "Help".

The main interface is divided into two sections:

- Passage: A text area containing the sentence "Bush didn't have the gall to pardon Scooter Libby." Below the text area is a horizontal scrollbar. Underneath the scrollbar are three buttons: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR".
- Question: A text area containing the question "Did Bush pardon Scooter Libby?". Below the text area is a horizontal scrollbar. Underneath the scrollbar are three buttons: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR".

At the bottom of the window, there is an "Answer" section with a text field containing the word "NO".

waste N₀ to \rightsquigarrow not X

The screenshot shows a window titled "parc bridge" with standard Mac OS window controls (red, yellow, green buttons). Below the title bar, there is a "Display Analyses:" section with two radio buttons: "single" (selected) and "packed". To the right of these are three buttons: "Clear", "Exit", and "Help".

The main area is divided into three sections:

- Passage: A text field containing "John wasted his chance to buy beer." Below the text field is a horizontal scrollbar. To the right of the scrollbar are three vertical arrow buttons (up, down, and a double arrow).
- Question: A text field containing "Did John buy beer?". Below the text field is a horizontal scrollbar. To the right of the scrollbar are three vertical arrow buttons (up, down, and a double arrow).
- Answer: A text field containing "NO".

Below the "Passage" and "Question" text fields, there are three buttons each: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR".

not waste N₀ to $X \rightsquigarrow X$

The screenshot shows a window titled "parc bridge" with standard Mac OS window controls (three circles in the top-left corner). Below the title bar, there is a "Display Analyses:" section with two radio buttons: "single" (which is selected) and "packed". To the right of these are three buttons: "Clear", "Exit", and "Help".

The main area of the window is divided into three sections:

- Passage: A text field containing the sentence "John nearly wasted his chance to buy beer." Below the text field is a horizontal scrollbar. Underneath the scrollbar are three buttons: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR".
- Question: A text field containing the question "Did John buy beer?". Below the text field is a horizontal scrollbar. Underneath the scrollbar are three buttons: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR".
- Answer: A text field at the bottom of the window containing the word "YES".

waste N_r to \rightsquigarrow X

The screenshot shows a window titled "parc bridge" with standard Mac OS window controls (red, yellow, green buttons). Below the title bar, there is a "Display Analyses:" section with two radio buttons: "single" (selected) and "packed". To the right of these are three buttons: "Clear", "Exit", and "Help".

The main area is divided into three sections:

- Passage: A text field containing "John wasted his paycheck to buy beer." Below the text field is a horizontal scrollbar. Underneath the scrollbar are three buttons: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR".
- Question: A text field containing "Did John buy beer?". Below the text field is a horizontal scrollbar. Underneath the scrollbar are three buttons: "Syntax", "AKR0", and "AKR".
- Answer: A text field containing "YES".

not forget to force to $X \rightsquigarrow X$

parc bridge

Display Analyses: ☒ single ☐ packed Clear Exit Help

Passage Ed did not forget to force Dave to leave.

Syntax AKR0 AKR

Question Dave left.

Syntax AKR0 AKR

Answer YES

not wait to X => ??

parc bridge

Display Analyses: ☐ single ☒ packed Clear Exit Help

Passage Susan did not wait to get married.

Syntax AKR0 AKR

Question Susan got married.

Syntax AKR0 AKR

Answer AMBIGUOUS